

23

It only smells like the dump when you upset a skunk.
Hint: A good place to meet for sweet smells and treats.

24

This animal will fly away if you want to play.
Hint: Don't offer this bird a cup of Joe.

25

Near the Majestic Park mural I peacefully sleep. Out of reach from Dos Gatos, across the street.
Hint: Listen for my gentle coo from my perch high above you.

26

It's odd to find me flying up a brick wall; I swim in the water and never walk nor crawl.
Hint: The rock bass is camped out near a village of artists.

27

You'll see this little animal with no hair on his tail, lying around in the window of a brewer of ales.
Hint: This marsupial is "o" so sleepy. Or is he just pretending?

28

Do my big claws scare you? I would run away from you too.
Hint: You can select to put your money here.

WILDABOUT WALKABOUT SCAVENGER HUNT

The twenty-eight bronze sculptures that have taken up permanent residence around Downtown Johnson City were brought to life by students and faculty from the ETSU Department of Art & Design

PLEASE USE CAUTION WHEN CROSSING THE STREET

1

With my house on my back, I'm tiny and slow. In France, my name is escargot.

Hint: "Check me out" near the entrance of a building filled with books.

2

You won't find tapirs around town today, but you might spot a fossil while you play.

Hint: Explore Johnson City's Natural Playground.

3

Near the "Wildabout" mural, on the ground, coyote footprints can be found.

Hint: Try boulder hopping for a better view.

4

What's the buzz in King Commons? I'll "bee" glad to tell all. Look for me way up high on the "Wildabout" wall.

Hint: The Ale House patio is a hive of activity.

5

In King Commons, after the rain, you can spy me near the drain.

Hint: Follow the concrete path between the beer garden and the JC sign.

6

Have you seen Papa Bear? He's running behind. He told us to meet him at the big JC sign.

Hint: We can see the Town View from our hiding spot.

7

This insect has climbed a wall, not a tree, watching artists create at #133.

Hint: Look for me near chicken and bikes.

8

My eyes are huge and I'm really wise; I play all night and sleep at sunrise.

Hint: I watch from my perch near London's door.

9

On hot summer nights, look for my flashing light. With my eerie green glow, I put on quite a show.

Hint: Find me near a round antique pane on downtown West Main.

10

Find me over one of the Pavilion's main arches, though I prefer wading near lakeshores and marshes.

Hint: My "profile" picture is farmers market fresh.

11

On a small ledge near a Founders bridge rail, you can catch a glimpse of my mask and striped tail.

Hint: Do you think White Duck Taco Shop offers creekside delivery?

12

Shh! I'm asleep in my creekside nest. After swimming all day, I needed a rest.

Hint: Find these "wild wings" by the railing near the large set of stairs.

13

Have a sssseat on the bench, and ssssoak up the ssssun. I promise that I'll never bite anyone!

Hint: The Rotary Bridge is just a short sssslither away.

14

I'm a tiny amphibian who can take giant leaps. Look for me in the creek, shouting to my peeps.

Hint: Stop and say hello when you check the water level in Founders Park.

15

I have stripes on my tail, like my friends, Chip and Dale. High on this pine tree, I see flags - 1, 2, 3.

Hint: Cross the street for a Korean taco or some baklava.

16

My long ears are twitching by the back garden wall. Watching diners eat musakka and fried falafel.

Hint: You haven't found me yet? You'd better hop to it.

17

I look like a dog with a bushy tail. I'm sneaky, sly, and make Dora wail.

Hint: Looking for a lawyer on the corner? Me too! (I ate the gingerbread man).

18

Some call me a beetle, a bird, or a bug, but I'm always a "lady", just too tiny to hug.

Hint: Look for the giant-sized children playing in the dirt.

19

I flutter behind glass with an "Aerial" view. (The window was open, so inside I flew).

Hint: I'm not a bee, but you'll find me in the bee hive.

20

You'll find me in a window on an angler's line, next door to where the Germans dine.

Hint: How long has it been since you've had a shave and a haircut?

21

I'll never win a race at the track, but I've always got a home on my back.

Hint: I don't have much hair, but if I did, I'm in a good spot for grooming. Find me under the walkway cover.

22

I may be hairy and scary with many legs and eyes, and I might be named Charlotte or Peter Parker depending on my size.

Hint: Walk under the breezeway lights and look up.
